An NHS service for veterans with military-related mental health conditions

www.veteranswales.co.uk

What is Veterans' NHS Wales (VNHSW)?

VNHSW is a NHS service which provides specialist mental health assessments and out-patient psychological and medication treatments.

Who is VNHSW for?

VNHSW is a priority mental health service for veterans and reservists who have served in HM Armed Forces and who have a suspected service-related mental health condition.

Veterans sometimes develop service-related mental health problems and these can occur for many reasons ranging from deeply shocking operational experiences to difficulty adapting to civilian life.

You DO NOT need to have served in a combat role in the Armed Forces to experience service-related psychological health problems.

What veterans have said about VNHSW

"This was the first time that I felt that I was speaking to a therapist who understood my issues as a veteran"

"The treatment was rightly challenging, but has been extremely effective – even when I sometimes did not believe it would work"

"After ten years of diagnoses I have made a big step forward now instead of being in the situation during flashbacks I can now see myself from outside which is hugely important for me"

"My therapist was great and knew how to handle the subjects I talked about"

"My therapist was able to make me see things in a different way and help me and my family become closer than we have ever been"
